Author's Note

According to our mythological texts, the time of our birth is associated with a symbol that reflects our inner nature and characteristics. This symbol is part of the twelve signs known as the zodiac in Hindu Vedic astrology. Each zodiac sign generally indicates a person's current disposition and provides broad insights into potential future events. When the details of a person's birth time and place are analysed alongside a specific zodiac sign, this process is referred to in astrology as *Jyotish Shastra*¹. In this analytical system, a person's entire life is examined through a chart known as a *Kundli*².

Speaking of *Jyotish Shastra*¹, it is a mysterious and divine scientific method. While it may be challenging to pinpoint its origin—when, where, why, how, and by whom it was developed—the modern world increasingly acknowledges its significance.

My interest in astrology has been present since childhood, largely influenced by my father, Mr. Kailash Chandra, a well-known researcher in the field of astrology. I often listened to the discussions he had with his fellow scholars on the subject. Over my 30-plus years of research in astrology, I have observed that people are often curious about their nature and future. I believe that while no one can foresee the future, it is possible to make an educated estimate about the nature of future circumstances. Such estimates can either be made by a proven divine soul or through a mysterious scientific method.

Now, let us discuss a person's nature and wisdom, which are directly responsible for shaping their future. Who doesn't face problems in life? The key is how we deal with these situations. Your ability to navigate difficult times depends on how you approach them. Everyone's actions are directly linked to their nature, and this connection influences every aspect of our lives. Not only do our actions reflect our nature, but the way we confront challenges also reveals our personality. Our inner nature serves as a crucial link in the chain that drives us to act.

I believe that the blueprint of our future is reflected through our ascendant and moon signs, which provide insight into our forthcoming days. The ability to assess virtues, faults, and circumstances is rooted in our personality and disposition. With the guidance of zodiac signs and astrology, we can skillfully navigate the events that lie ahead.

This booklet on zodiac signs will provide you with a practical understanding of the potential lifestyle trends in 2025. It explores the depth of relationships, the flow of love within you, the bitterness in life, compatibility with other signs, and aspects related to financial and business implications. This booklet offers a detailed account of the trends likely to manifest for each zodiac sign. Therefore, after reading this, you will be well-prepared to adopt a comprehensive perspective in advance. Each reader's sense of the future will enable them to approach sensitive and worrisome situations with self-confidence and practical thinking.

Introduction

Astrology, a mysterious and divine scientific method, continues to reveal new insights through ongoing research. The intriguing aspect of this method is that it is a complete science in itself, one that no human or organisation can claim to modernise. Instead, this enigmatic practice remains relevant over time, adapting itself through continuous exploration. Astrology functions by predicting an individual's future based on the positions of planets and zodiac signs at the time and place of their birth, commonly referred to as a *horoscope*¹. The calculation of this horoscope reveals the individual's birth sign and patterns that may unfold in their future.

Now, let's delve into the zodiac signs and planets, which form the foundation of astrology. The planetary cycle around the Earth takes the shape of an ellipse in space. In the sky, this cycle appears as a belt about 12 degrees wide, known as the *ecliptic*², which is the Sun's apparent path. The planets journey along this path endlessly. In astrology, this planetary cycle is divided into twelve equal parts, each containing thirty-degree segments called zodiac signs. Each sign, therefore, represents one-twelfth of the ecliptic circle, measuring 30 degrees of celestial longitude. The twelve 30-degree signs collectively form the zodiac or the 360-degree circle, within which the planets revolve in their defined orbits. The twelve zodiac signs are Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius, and Pisces. These twelve signs, through which the planets transit from west to east—moving sequentially from Aries to Pisces—each exert a distinct influence. As planets move through the zodiac, they affect the signs based on their unique nature and positions.

According to modern astrological research, there are twelve recognised celestial bodies, including the Sun, Moon, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus, Saturn, *Rahu*³, Ketu, Uranus, Neptune, and Pluto; however, Indian astrology traditionally acknowledges only the first nine planets. Each sign in the zodiac is governed by a specific planet, which is considered the ruler of that sign.

The Sun and Moon each rule one sign—Leo and Cancer, respectively—while Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus, and Saturn each rule two signs. There is some debate regarding *Rahu*³ and Ketu ruling certain signs, but the reality is that as shadow planets, they do not govern any sign directly. Instead, they influence the signs and planets associated with them based on their position or aspect. Mars governs Aries and Scorpio, while Mercury significantly influences Gemini and Virgo.

So far, we have discussed the intricate rules of astrology, where analysing an individual's horoscope can provide insights into their future. However, in this booklet, we will focus on the zodiac signs and the upcoming New Year. As mentioned earlier, each individual has a birth sign, which not only possesses unique characteristics but also operates according to time and planetary positions. Understanding the forthcoming trends of our sign can help us prepare for any challenges that lie ahead.

Additionally, having a general understanding of the characteristics of various signs can improve our relationships with those around us, as the astrological traits of all twelve signs differ from one another. A basic knowledge of the signs can make it much easier to understand any personality.

Looking at the time, place, and positions of the signs, the year 2025 is expected to be more progressive compared to the previous year. We state this broadly because the location—whether a country, city, or village—plays an indirect yet significant role in helping an individual lead a smooth life. For instance, if the country faces a crisis like war, civil strife, or an economic downturn, your life will inevitably face disruptions. Therefore, we again assert that the year 2025 will be exceptionally progressive for India.

Now, we will discuss the effects on all 12 zodiac signs in the year 2025. Let's explore the potential obstacles the year 2025 may present. I believe that with caution and hard work, you can achieve any goal you set, regardless of astrological predictions.

Aries (Mésh)

21 March – 19 April

Year 2025

Rāśi's Basic Characteristics: Aries, represented by the Ram, is the first sign of the zodiac and rules the 1st house. Its ruling planet is Mars, and it governs the head and brain. Aries is associated with forests and quadrupeds, and has qualities such as being *Priśtodāya*¹ (having its rise in the hind part), movable, odd, and *Dwāra Rāśi*² (a gateway sign). It belongs to the mineral class, is considered fierce and male, and is associated with the East, red colour, night, the goat, the Kshatriya caste, and the *Tējo-Tātwa*³ (element of fire).

Introduction: Aries, the first zodiac sign of the spring season, symbolises the time when everything comes alive as favourable environmental conditions shift. As such, Aries natives are known for being straightforward, enthusiastic, self-centered, and emotional.

Career and Livelihood: In 2025, Aries natives may experience significant changes in their livelihood resources. For those with a favourable combination of Jupiter, Moon, and Venus in the 9th house, foreign travel is a strong possibility. Aries businesspeople with Saturn, Mercury, and Venus together in the same house in their horoscopes will find 2025 to be a year of exceptional financial gains. However, if this combination is absent in your Kundli, the year may present a mixed bag of results.

Education and Health: Aries students may face challenges in their studies, particularly those with Saturn in the 6th house. Health-related issues could be the primary cause of these obstacles, especially if you've been neglecting your well-being. Don't lose hope—you can overcome these difficulties by incorporating regular exercise and a disciplined lifestyle. Even a malefic Saturn can yield positive results when discipline is maintained, as Saturn is associated with discipline in astrology.

Relationships and Marriage: For Aries natives with Saturn in the 7th house, 2025 may bring difficulties in marital life and strained relations with in-laws. Delays in marriage may also occur, and if you're considering leaving your job to start a business, there is a high likelihood of initial setbacks.

Love Life: The year 2025 may not be favourable for love relationships. Maintaining harmony with your partner is crucial to avoid misunderstandings, particularly for Aries natives whose horoscope lacks favourable placements of Mars, Rahu, and Ketu.

Fortune and New Beginnings: Aries natives with Jupiter transiting the 3rd house will see significant life changes starting at the beginning of 2025. Luck will be on your side, paving the way for new beginnings. Financial gains are expected, and you may secure a job with your preferred company, with a steep rise in your income. Businesspersons will experience high profits and attractive income this year, with little to no financial worries.

Wealth and Prosperity: In October, Jupiter's transit through the 4th house will help you complete pending tasks and bolster your financial position. You may also have the opportunity to purchase a new home or vehicle. The year 2025 will present Aries natives with the best possible circumstances to achieve outstanding accomplishments across all areas of life.

Summary: In 2025, Aries natives will experience significant opportunities and challenges. Career advancements, especially through foreign travel and business ventures, are on the horizon for those with favourable planetary alignments. However, students and those in relationships may face hurdles that require discipline and patience. The year promises financial growth, especially towards the latter part, with potential for major acquisitions like a new home or vehicle. It belongs to the Vaisya caste and the *Prithvi-Tatwa*² (Earth element).

Career and Financial Outlook: According to the Taurus horoscope for 2025, this year will bring many new strategies and changes in your work domain. You may find yourself changing your job or business, potentially moving away from your hometown as a result. Financially, 2025 is expected to be an excellent year, though it may come with challenges. With a strong sense of luck, you will likely see positive changes in your income pattern. It's important to maintain a balanced mindset throughout the year.

Influence of Jupiter and Financial Matters: Jupiter's transit through the second house will bring significant life changes. Hasty decisions may lead to problems, so careful consideration in financial matters is crucial. Maintaining harmony with your superiors and colleagues will also be beneficial. Financial fluctuations are likely, and Taurus natives with Venus in the 10th house may need financial assistance from their father or take loans from family members. However, your marital life will be sweet, and there are indications of joy from progeny. If you're unmarried, a love relationship with your desired partner may blossom, bringing happiness.

Education and Higher Studies: For Taurus natives with *Akadash Bhav*³ in the 9th and 11th houses of their birth chart, the prospects for higher education are bright. Students, especially those studying engineering, research, management, accounting, and related fields, will make great progress. The Akadash Bhav primarily reflects the desires, hopes, and aspirations of the natives, indicating success in areas such as business, education, foreign partnerships, and more.

Those recovering from serious illnesses will find this year especially beneficial. While minor health issues may cause some trouble, no significant health problems are expected. Challenges and Cautions: However, challenges may arise with the transit of Rahu̥ in the 10th house and Ketu in the 4th house in May 2025. These transits could lead to disruptions in your routine lifestyle, financial issues, and family problems. Increased expenses and borrowing may also add to your worries. As a result, you may spend much of the year concerned about your future.

Summary: In 2025, Taurus natives will experience a blend of opportunities and challenges. Career changes and financial growth are on the horizon, though caution in decision-making is advised. Health prospects are generally positive, with relief in mental stress expected. However, be prepared for potential disruptions in your routine and family life, particularly in the latter half of the year. With careful planning and a balanced approach, Taurus can navigate the ups and downs of 2025 successfully.

Career and Life Changes: According to the annual horoscope for 2025, this year will bring many changes to the lives of Libra natives. These changes may sometimes result in positive outcomes, while at other times, they could present challenges. In the early months of the year, Jupiter will transit through your 8th house. From May 2025, Jupiter will move to your 9th house, and from October to December 2025, it will transit through your 10th house. Your work will be recognised by your superiors, and you will receive appreciation from both superiors and colleagues. Maintaining good relationships with them will be crucial, especially if you are considering a job change or travelling abroad for work-related matters. Those in the beauty or arts industries may find this time particularly profitable.

Challenges with Saturn, Rahu, and Ketu: However, the positive environment may not last throughout the year. During challenging times, it is advisable to consult a good astrologer before making major decisions. Seek advice from your mother, father, or other family members. Family and children-related issues could increase your worries, and the transit of Rahu and Ketu might lead to health problems if you neglect your well-being.
